MOTOR TREND'S THE GOODS

Escort Max 360 • $650 • escortradar.com

With features such as 360-degree directional alerts, front and rear laser and radar detection, and a mobile app to update users on speed traps, it's no wonder this unit is touted as "the most advanced radar/laser detector on the market."

Trace Action Sports Tracker $200 • traceup.com

At about the size of a Reese's Peanut Butter Cup, it'll track your snow or surf session's pertinent stats, edit GoPro footage, and overlay your choice of collected information on your favorite video clips. You can then share everything on social media.

Outside Van

Sprinter Van Conversion $25K and up outsidevan.com

Outside Van will build your dream van. Its new custom Mercedes-Benz Sprinter 4x4 rigs feature knobby tires, beefier suspensions, beds, and insulated interiors. You, however, have to supply the van.

Weego JS6 • $100 • shop.myweego.com

Jump-start gas- (up to 4.6 liters in size) and diesel-powered (up to 2.4 liters) vehicles easily with this compact 12-volt lithium-ion charger. You can also charge mobile devices. How's that for nifty?

BACK OF THE NAPKIN

TOM GALE, FORMER CHRYSLER DESIGN BOSS

I was sitting next to Tom Gale during the finalist deliberations for Car of the Year and saw him doodling this here sketch. Here's the guy who designed the original Viper, the 1994 Ram, and the Plymouth Prowler, and I'm watching him draw freehand! Later when I asked Tom to describe the sketch, he simply said, "I like hot rods." Jonny Lieberman
